SPLENDID

Features For the Star
Lecture Course.

Reflects Credit Upon Its Energetic Manner.

Miss Minnie Henneberger, who introduced the Star Course here last season, will again bring to Akron some of the best talent in the Lyceum field. The course this season will be much better than last year, and much more expensive, comprising the following talent:

The Ernest Gamble Concert company, October 8. Mr. Gamble is well known in this city and music loving people will look forward to his coming again. He will have in his company Madame Bailey, soprano; Miss Ruth Anderson, violinist, and Mr. Edwin Shonert, pianist.

The second attraction, November 13. Mr. Edward Frye will give David Harum in monologue, which is as thoroughly interesting as it is in the story.

Father Kelley, chaplain during the late war with Spain, will appear here November 26, in his lecture, "The Yankee Volunteer."

Congressman Dolliver, recognized as the most brilliant orator in the House of Representatives, will be here December 14.

The Ottumwas quartette, with Geo. H. Iott, basso, December 26.

Dr. Ion A. Jackson, who has created such a furor by his singing here this summer, will appear in a song recital January 22, 1901, assisted by other eminent artists.

February 12th, Durno and Novelty entertainers. Durno is a magician, has few equals in this country, his stage settings is elaborate and handsome. Emmett has been justly called the King of Ventriloquists.

humorist, who is a great favorite in Akron, will appear again this season. His date is February 25.

The Boston Ladies' Symphony orchestra, the strongest attraction on the course, March 6.

The course closes April 3rd, with the Parker concert company. It is impossible for any committee, or management, except under the unusually favorable circumstances, connected with Miss Henneberger's venture, to bring such attractions to our city at such low prices, and with such a small opera house, and it certainly is a credit to this city to have such fine attractions. The talent for this course is furnished by the Central Lyceum Bureau, of Rochester, N. Y., which is owned and controlled by Messrs. Rich & Hershey. Miss Henneberger is a niece of Mr. Hershey, and her brother, Mr. Geo. Henneberger, is manager of the Bureau for the States of Ohio and Indiana, and in this way it is possible to get the talent from the Bureau at a lower rate than any other organization. The Bureau has already booked one thousand large courses this season, and in all that number there is none better than the one booked for Akron.

home. A little one 6 years old, took matches and went to the barn to see if the straw stack would burn. It did burn, and the barn also. Neighbors seeing the blaze, ran to the fire, but came too late to save any of the contents, except one horse.

The house and adjoining buildings were saved after a hard fight. All the farm implements and the crops which had been harvested, were burned. The entire loss falls upon Mr. Yerrick, as he had no insurance. The loss was about $500.

from the far south have been dumped into Chicago by the Illinois Central railroad. They are still coming. They are not the best class of negroes, and they are certainly not the ones we want in Chicago."

This statement was made by the Rev. Reverdy Ransom, pastor of the People's Institutional church, colored, last night, and he added to it by saying:

"These negroes have come here destitute, and since their arrival a number of serious crimes have been traced to them. A drug store was broken into and robbed near my church at Thirty-eighth and Dearborn sts., a few nights ago and it proved to have been done by a New Orleans negro, who had been in town only two days. There should be some way for the State government to prevent this wholesale immigration of the Southern negro population to Chicago."

Band Concert Postponement.

Account of rain last evening the street fete and open air concert to be given by United Brethren church, corner Buchtel ave. and Sumner sts., will be given Saturday evening. In case of rain will be held in the church. Proceeds to go towards buying pulpit furniture. All invited.
